SUCCESS.

Insomnia and nervousness seem to be the leading factors in the mathematical calculus of the present day, and if the "grippe" is not in attendance, the ailing mortal is full of fear that per- to-morrow he or she may be a victim to its grasp.

Its high noon, and time to get away from such impressions! Give them up instantly, and take a "chaw of tobacco"—as uncle Dan says—you'll be able to drive the plow better in the spring time, and chop kindling in the winter.

"It's a wonder to me," said Judge B., over at the blacksmith shop, "how Mr. Blank manages to live and educate his children on that small farm! I'd starve to death," he continued, in two years; "and yet B. has a pair of mules, a new wagon, and talks of making improvements in the next spring." "H.t's jest this here way," chimed in Uncle Henry, squirting the ambler over among the cold irons in a corner; "he tends ter his own bizness, eats corn bread, and owes no man anything. Success will grow seed."

"Thars Jim Candy, he was er goin ter make money in town, sold his premises, by gum, tried city life fur a year, and cum back ter ther country plum broke. Good thing his wife's father had money enuff ter buy back ther farm, and give hit ter ther wife and children." "Nuff said," replied Dr. B. "Success is dependent upon health, happiness and the 'almighty dollar,' a man can't even hire a horse and buggy to go fishing without plank-down a "ave." Wish I had time ter write and talk." The Farmers Institute held a successful convocation at the Forks of the river on the 24 and 25th of April.

statistics with more regard than we can now afford to admit or enjoy.

To any intelligent country gentleman of the "old school," the thought of past, present and future living means much in the general term. The homes of childhood must be cherished and not to be allowed to go into the possession of renters who have no thought, whatever, of sentiment or fidelity, or to creatures of circumstance who know not the value of home. Teach the children the veneration of aged landmarks, and the love of parental homekeeping, and the girls will be anxious to marry the farmer boy, and the boy be equally as willing to wed the country girl, and in the next decade we shall see contended, under their own vine and rose tree, the children who have learned obedience, order and kindness, and who love the scenes of nature because these belong to God.

DOING BUSINESS AGAIN.

"When my friends thought I was about to take leave of this world, on account of indigestion, nervousness and general debility," writes A. A. Chisholm, Treadwell, N. Y., "and when it looked as if there was no hope left I was persuaded to try Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say that they are curing me. I am now doing business again as of old, and am still gaining daily." Best tonic medicine on earth. Guaranteed by all druggists. 50c.

MULE TEAM RUNS AWAY.

A team of mules hitched to a wagon, took fright, on the Versailles pike, on Tuesday, and ran away. In the wagon were a number of men, but they could not control the frighten-

"FARMER'S"

ROSEDALE CUNNINGHAM STATION, KY.

Col. and Mrs. John Cunningham and Mrs. Laura Estill Francis, have as their guests, their handsome and talented cousin, Miss Estelle Walker, late, of Missouri, but a member of the noted Estill and Walker families of dear old Richmond; their beautiful and attractive cousin, Miss Nellie Estill, of Colorado, and also, their noble and gifted cousin, Mrs. Frances Estill Beauchamp, of Lexington, the President of "The Woman's Christian Temperance Union," of Kentucky.

The colonial, ancestral home, surrounded by a well kept lawn, and shaded by fine, large, English elms (above a rich lead mine), is bounded by substantial stone walls; the pride of its owner. The house is a gallery of the arts, and musical instruments, antique silver, gilt candelabras, hand painted china and mahogany furniture. The parlors, decorated in beauty roses, and the dining room gorgeous, in "Gloria," gilt, pressed paper decorated in white and green. "The great room" presented an inviting appearance, with the display of tropical fruits and all the delicacies and early vegetables of the season. A happy occasion, of congenial spirits called for the wonderful, deep, rich, contralto, voice of Mrs. Laura Estill Francis, as she sang so touchingly and triumphantly, with the piano forte accompaniment.

"What ever my lot, Thou hast taught me to say!
It is well! It is well! with my Soul!"

Again she sang "I'm The Child of a King."

"My Father is rich in houses and lands!

He holdeth the wealth of the world in His hands.

Of rubies and diamonds, of silver and gold!

His coffers are full! He has riches untold!

I'm the child of a King! The child of a King!

With Jesus, my Savior, I'm the child of a King!"

And also, she sang, "Beulah Land."

"I am drinking at the fountain, where I ever shall abide,

For I have tasted Life's Pure River, and my Soul is satisfied,

There's no thirsting for Earth's pleasure, or pleasures rich and gay,

For I've found a richer treasure, One that fadeeth not away.

Sure this is the Land of Beulah, blessed, blessed land of light!

Where the living live forever, And the sunlight fadeeth not!"

With the reluctant departure, as the carriage rolled away to Cunningham Station. Good wishes followed them and showered "with blessings we plead."

FRANCIS INVITED.

St. Louis, April 4.—David R. Francis has received an invitation to attend the opening of the Jamestown Exposition on April 26th.

The Exposition Company has invited Mr. Francis to participate in the inaugural exercises, which will be attended by President Roosevelt. It is possible that Mr. Francis will combine a trip to Virginia with one to Richmond, Ky., his birth place, to be present at the dedication of a fountain which he presented to the town, and which has just been completed.

PROSPECTING FOR LEAD.

Higgins, Hollingsworth and Drake, of Newport, are putting in machinery to bore for lead on Dick Marsh's farm in East Paris.

"I suffered habitually from constipation. Doan's Regulators relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that I have been regular ever since."—A. E. Davis, grocer, Sulphur Springs, Tex.

IS NOW COMPLETE.

Programme of the National Editorial Association—Meets in June.

The National Editorial Association will hold its annual meeting at the Jamestown Exposition, beginning Monday, June 10, and continuing to June 15, inclusive. The programme for this meeting has just been completed and given out by the corresponding secretary of the association, Congressman W. A. Ashbrook, of Johnston, O.

The most noteworthy number of this programme has been arranged for the first day, June 10, when President Roosevelt will address the convention of newspaper men. The President will make two addresses on this occasion. The first being to the people of Georgia, as June 10 is to be Georgia day at the Exposition, and the address to the editors will follow.

During the meeting of the association during the week the business session will occupy a portion of each day the remainder of the time being taken up with visits to many points of historic interest in the community. A synopsis of the official programme is as follows:

Monday, June 10—Reception and address by President Roosevelt, after which the association will review the warships assembled in Hampton Roads.

Tuesday, June 11—Afternoon and evening, a visit to the "Warpath" and the exhibits.

Wednesday, June 12—An observation trip over the Norfolk & Southern railway to Virginia Beach and a dip in the surf. The association will then go to Cape Henry, inspect the lighthouse, the wireless telegraph and life-saving stations and then have clam-bake, returning at night to the Exposition grounds.

Thursday, June 13—A trip to Jamestown island by steamer, where the editors will view the ruins now standing there and the historic home on the James River. The return to the Exposition grounds will be made by moonlight.

Friday, June 14—Trip to the navy yard at Portsmouth; the shipyard at Newport News, passing the scene of the historic fight between the Monitor and the Merrimack; the Hampton Institute, Old Point Comfort and Fortress Monroe.

Saturday, June 15—Closing business session and adjournment.

The National Editorial Association is composed of the editors of the leading newspapers and other publications of the United States, and its members have shown much interest in the Exposition, which many of them have visited during the past few months. In addition to the National Editorial Association there will be present upon this occasion the Canadian Press Association, the Associated Press, of Quebec, and the L'Association des Journalistes Canadiens Francaise du Canada.

TO TEST ANTI-PASS LAW.

The Executive Committee of the Alabama Press Association, which met in Montgomery recently, raised a subcommittee which is empowered to employ counsel if necessary to contest the so-called anti-pass act in the courts. The Committee was also directed to fix a date for the annual meeting of the Association in Montgomery, and to make the necessary arrangements for that meeting. It is probable the meeting will be held in July.

CHAMPION STAR DISCOVERER.

Discovering stars might seem to be a precarious profession for man or woman; but Mrs. Wilhelmina Fleming, the only woman holding an active position at Harvard, claims it as hers. As eight of the ten stars found and catalogued within the last 200 years are credited to her it seems probable that Mrs. Fleming has made a success of her work.

SMALL CYCLONE.

Does Considerable Damage in Both City and County.

On Sunday afternoon, shortly before 3 o'clock, a cyclone of rather wide dimensions made things lively for the citizens of this city and county. The roof of the Royal Mills building, now being used as a chair factory by the Ford-Johnson Co., on East Main street, was badly damaged by being torn loose from the wall, and a small section of the gable of the building was crushed in. Luckily the roof was not blown across the street, else the dwellings opposite would, in all probability, have been crushed and lives lost. Damage about $2,500.

A section of the roof of the Carlisle Distillery, below the lock, was blown off, and damage to about $500 inflicted.

The roof of the residence of Mr. Ed. H. Joubert, just beyond Green Hill cemetery, on the Versailles pike, was completely torn away and blown down to the valley near the pike.

Trees, fences, barns, telephone lines, &c., were damaged in all directions.

The storm only lasted a few minutes, but it was a hummer while it was at it, and created considerable alarm among the timid ones. The cloud was a very heavy one and assumed a steel blue color, which rapidly changed its hue as it progressed. Owing to her peculiar location, Frankfort has never been seriously damaged by a cyclone, being almost completely surrounded by high hills.

TWO ACCIDENTS ON THE INTER-URBAN LINE.

While at work on the Interurban line, on Monday, Mr. Cicero Marlow was attempting to remove the stumps of some large trees from the right of way with dynamite. He had arranged several charges and ignited the fuses, going to a place of safety. Thinking all the charges had gone off, he returned to the place only to have a belated charge explode, putting out both of his eyes and otherwise mangle him.

Marlow was taken to the hospital in Versailles but with little hopes of his recovery.

Not to be outdone by Monday's tragedy, on Tuesday a team of mules, belonging to workmen on the road, took fright at the automobile of Chief Engineer George McLeod and split the pike wide open, in their course running into and over the buggy of Messrs. Preston and Joshua Gibson (who were driving into the city), crushing the buggy into kindling, but, luckily, not injuring those gentlemen beyond a shakeup.

The team was soon afterwards captured.

GRANDSON OF GREAT COMMONER PASSES OVER.

Mr. Thos. H. Clay, Jr., a grandson of Henry Clay, died at his home, in Lexington, on Monday. Mr. Clay was a gentleman of ability and decided literary turn. Formerly he was an editor of the Youth's Companion, of Boston, Mass., one of the greatest papers of the country. At the time of his death Mr. Clay was engaged in writing a biography of his grandfather—the Great Commoner—and also in the real estate business. He was 65 years of age, and leaves a wife and three daughters. He was an elegant gentleman.

THE RIGHT MOVE.

Strange things sometimes happen in this world. The farmer, of all men, needs the protection of the laws the most. Yet, when they do get cranky, they are the limit. Their association together to control the price of tobacco has given a lot of irresponsible an opportunity to show this fully. In the counties of Hopkins, Trigg, Christian, and others adjacent, the feeling in favor of the association has grown so acute that those who do not see things as their brethren do, and will not join the association, are being treated to a dose of genuine kukluxism. First, their barns and tobacco have been burned, and then, to add further injury, their tobacco buds (necessary for this year's crops) are being systematically destroyed.

So outrageous has been the conduct of the "night riders" that it has invoked the following proclamation from the Governor:

"Frankfort, Ky., April 9.—Proclamation of reward: Commonwealth of Kentucky, Executive Department: Whereas, Numerous complaints have been made to me of the wanton destruction of property in Western Kentucky, to wit: Beds of tobacco plants and warehouses wherein tobacco has been stored for keeping and for sale; and, whereas, the banding together of persons for the purpose of destroying such property or to intimidate persons in charge of same, is denounced as a felony by our statutes, and is a menace to the peace and good order of the Commonwealth.

"Now know ye that by virtue of the authority vested in me by law I do hereby offer a reward of $500 for the apprehension and conviction of every person who participates in the burning or injury of any barn or warehouse wherein is stored any tobacco, or who participates in the destruction of any bed of tobacco plants; such reward to be paid upon allowance of the Circuit Court having such jurisdiction.

"In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the Commonwealth to be hereunto affixed. Done at Frankfort, this 8th day of April, 1907, and in the 115th year of the Commonwealth.

(Signed) "J. C. W. BECKHAM,
"By the Governor.
"H. V. MCCHESNEY, Sec'y of State.
"By W. F. GRAYTON,
"Assistant Secretary of State."

We wish it distinctly understood that we do not include the mass of farmers in the "night rider" class, but just as it was in the kuklux days, the good men are being intimidated by the "riders" and are afraid to assert themselves lest they, in their unprotected situation, may meet a like fate with the misguided fellows who will not join the A. S. E.

The strong aim of the law will have to intervene to correct this evil.

IN BAD.

John Maxey, Jr., of color, and Buster Kennedy, also colored, were corralled on Monday by the minions of the law for stealing corn from a car in the railroad yards. It seems they were doing a land-office business. They had become so bold that they were selling corn from their wagon.

Kennedy was turned over to the Juvenile Court, being under the age limit, but Maxey's case was submitted to the grand jury.

Maxey seems to be a natural thief, as he has been convicted two or three times before for stealing bicycles.

WHERE'S THAT "GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME" WEATHER?

We are moved to inquire what has become of that "good old summer time" weather which we enjoyed almost all of the blustery month of March?

CORKERS AND TWISTERS.

By Mrs. O'Houllhan.

It is somewhat strange that the schools and colleges do not pay more attention to the study of fossils, or petrifications as they are commonly called. These fossils indicate, or identify to a large extent, the formations of the earth's surface. They are most abundant, probably, in the Devonian, and least abundant in the Achaean formations.

Kentucky is rich in these relics of past ages, and Franklin county not only has its share, but possesses one fossil found nowhere else in the world. This is a fossil sponge—the oldest sponge in the world. In shape it resembles a king's crown, with circular rim and hollow fingers of uniform size, but enlarging and diminishing shape, pointing upward.

Fragments, and some whole specimens, of this rare sponge have been found in a small ravine on Richardson's Branch, near Cedar Run, and also in the vicinity of Bridgeport.

Many of these fossils are not only beautiful in appearance, when cleaned, but curious and often artistic in structure. Seen under an ordinary magnifying glass, they show all the unique outlines of the vegetable or animal creation as it appeared before petrification.

At the bend of the Shelbyville pike, this side the city reservoir, is a bed of fossils, technically known as brachiopods and lamellobranchs, of all sizes and shapes, from a small hickory nut to a pig's head, whilst others are elongated, interlaced in shell form or varied as the animal it represents. A specimen most abundant and most beautiful is the orthos borealis, resembling a nut with lines and flutings converging at top and bottom.

Some specimens of the trilobite, an animal that had three pairs of legs, have been found around Frankfort. The eyes, head and mouth of several trilobites have been extracted from some slate rocks at the mouth of Devil's Hollow.

Next to the ancient sponge, perhaps the rarest find near Frankfort were two specimens of fossil star fish, that were found on the reservoir hill when it was denuded of grasses and dirt to build the reservoir. The star fish, of the extinct species, the diverging spines of the central body were all distinct and perfect. One of these specimens is now in the Lexington Agricultural College collection.

The reservoir hill was also a veritable bed of fossil corals, brachiopods, lamellobranchs, gastropods, pteropods, etc. The lamellobranchs included the corals like chains interlaced, the cup corals with interior beautifully fluted, and petrifications like the comb cells made by the honey bee. The brachiopods are like variously shaped nuts or round balls. The gastropods resemble the snails, crawfish, etc. Whilst the pteropods were the winged creatures, like butterflies and snake doctors.

The stupendous formation of Franklin county is rich in fossil remains, and collectors from other counties and States have made valuable collections from its exposed surfaces.

In addition to the places named, specimens have been gathered from the Leestown hill from the railroad cut above the city, from the hills near Richardson's Branch, and from the railroad cut near Benson Station.

Fossil collectors are divided as to whether the petrification of plants and animals took place slowly, through long periods of time, or suddenly.

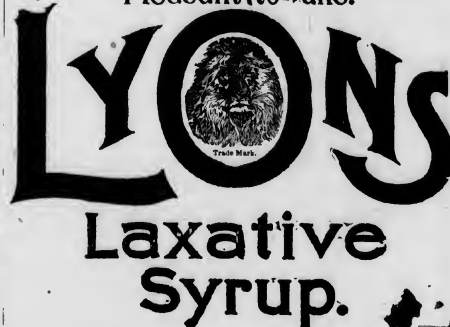

We think the latter. We once had a beautiful cup coral, shaped like a tiny vase. Its interior artistically carved and fluted, and along its sides crept a delicate vine, with leaves and buds or flowers, all perfectly transferred to a substance harder than stone. Had the process been long, this delicate vine and attachments must have perished or lost their shape before the process was completed.

WOULD BE ATTENDED TO.

Several farmers have called our attention to the condition of East Holmes street. They affirm that the macadam was cut through to the mud, and in place of having the rock properly broken, which was placed there to mend the roadway, great boulders were thrown there, which makes passing much worse than when there were ruts in the road.

It should be attended to at once.

Habit Worse Than the Disease.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured Me.

When the nervous system has been shattered by the use of deadly drugs there is nothing to equal Dr. Miles' Nervine in restoring it to health and normal activity.

"I feel so grateful for what Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine has done for me that I must tell it for that part of humanity that suffers from nervous prostration I found no relief until when doctors gave morphine. To my suffering I took morphine myself as it was the only thing that would give ease, and now who point with scorn at morphine using how could you, when in such agony, knowing it was the only thing that would give relief, resist it? I knew it was a terrible habit and I knew of its deadly grip, but I never fully realized its significance until I had used its number of months. Oh, the misery of being addicted to such a habit. I resolved then and there to quit it and resolved I would never be a slave to any such demon. About this time I happened to notice Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine advertised and ordered a bottle. After using five bottles I can truthfully say I am cured of using morphine. Now however much persons may doubt it, God is my witness I am cured. This testimonial is unsolicited but I feel it my duty to give it for the benefit of the suffering."—MATTIE PHILLIPS, Prescott, Ark.

RETURN ENGAGEMENT.

Of the Laughing Success of two Consultants, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," at Capital Theatre, Thursday, April 18.

In "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" which will be presented at Capital Theatre Thursday, April 18, there is a lesson for every husband who has acquired or is thinking seriously of acquiring the missed-the-last-car-my dear habit. There is also a lesson for every wife who is fond, or is likely to become fond, of magnifying circumstantial evidence until she believes that every other woman in town is suffering for her husband and that the suffering is generally very good. For, in "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" there is a husband who, being denied the privilege of telling the truth, utilizes the last-car story to his threatened undoing, and a wife, who, refusing to credit the truth, accepts the last-car story and upon investigation finds it to be false. The obvious moral is, that every husband should stick to his first story and that every wife should rest content in the thought that what she doesn't know will do her no harm. True, the average wife will ask why a married lady who has preceded her husband from Paris and arrived in London a day ahead of him should decide that evening to venture forth unattended and seek succor from worry by taking a ride in the Ferris Wheel in Earl's Court; and the husband will likely wish to know why a settled and reasonably respectable married man should attire himself in his evening clothes, desert his home, his wife and his friends and seek a like diversion on the same evening. But no sensible husband and wife will permit their attention to be drawn from the lesson contained in a series of complications by asking questions. It is enough to know that this accidental meeting did happen, that the wheel stuck while the perfect strangers were aloft in a car, and that the experience is the foundation of "Mrs. Temple's Telegram." Harry Conner, Grace Reals and the same superb company which appeared here two months ago will be seen here next week, which should guarantee a crowded house. Prices $1.50 to 25c. Seat sale at Barrett's Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock.

MUCH NEEDED IMPROVEMENT.

Capt. Roach, wharfmaster, has had a piece of work done this week that has been needed for some time. It is the repair of the roadway leading to the custom house wharf. It had become worn and washed until it was not only unsightly but was hard for a team to pull a load over.

Capt. Roach has dug away the slanting sides of the roadway and has filled up the ruts until the grade is much better.

It makes things look better as well as easier on teams.

BIG VICTORY FOR STRAIGHT GOODS.

On Wednesday last the long expected decision with regard to the manner in which blended, rectified and artificial whisky should be labeled, was given out by the President. The following is the text of the decision:

"In accordance with your suggestion, I submitted the matter concerning the proper labeling of whisky under the pure food law to the Department of Justice. I enclose the Attorney General's opinion. I agree with the opinion and direct that action be taken in accordance with it:

"Straight whisky must be labeled as such.

"A mixture of two or more straight whiskies must be labeled as blended whiskies.

"A mixture of straight whisky and ethyl alcohol provided that there is a sufficient amount of straight whisky to make it genuine, a 'mixture' will be labeled as compound of, or compounded with, pure grain in distillate.

"An imitation whisky must be labeled as such.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

It will be seen that this is a big victory for pure whisky. It is a big feather in the cap of Hon. E. H. Taylor, Jr., who commenced this bitter fight several years ago, and has stuck to it through thick and thin. He made the fight single-handed and it was seen that his arguments, and those of his able son and coadjutor, Mr. E. W. Taylor, were unanswerable, did others take up the cudgels.

The rectifiers and blenders had unlimited means in their hands and fought to the last ditch.

If a man must have whisky at all, he ought to have the very purest and best to be had, a thing utterly impossible until the "bottling in bond" and "pure food" laws were enacted. If he now uses the "lightning" stuff, he alone is to blame, because he can obtain the best.

IN ERROR.

We notice in our exchanges that it is given out that the heaviest snow ever known in April was that of April, 1898, when it was 1.7 inches. This is error, as we personally know that, about April 3, 1887, snow fell to the depth of over 10 inches, as we had to wade through it from our place of business in Mt. Sterling to our home. All through this region it reached near that figure.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning over broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought has directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Poor impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures and purifies the blood, thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood-cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. E. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery" which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

TOO FAT TO RIDE IN ELEVATOR.
Woman Weighing 400 Pounds Can't Get Up to See Divorce Lawyer.

New York—When Cherry Volkman, 19 years old, weighing 400 pounds, and whose occupation is posing as "the fattest girl in the world" in a Bowers museum, went to see her attorney, Abraham Goldfarb, on Broadway, to institute a suit for divorce against her husband, William, her size prevented her from getting into the elevator. After a futile attempt to get to the basement, where she might have entered a freight elevator, she held consultation with the janitor as to the best way for her to get up to Goldfarb's office.

"Well," said the janitor, "O! think th' best way fer yer is to get up to his office is fer him to come down."

Goldfarb accordingly was summoned and dismissed Cherry's case with her on the ground floor. Cherry, in her petition for divorce for non-support, stated that she married William Volkman in 1905, and that her husband's habitual drunkenness made life miserable. She also charges cruelty.

FORGET-ME-NOT.

A SPLENDID LECTURE.

The distinguished educator and lecturer, Edward Howard Griggs, will deliver a lecture on Goethe's "Faust," at the Episcopal Parish House, on Tuesday, the 18th inst.

Three years ago the writer had the privilege of listening to Mr. Griggs when he delivered a series of lectures on "The Divine Comedy." That series of lectures will long be remembered as one of the richest intellectual feasts that Frankfort people had ever enjoyed.

Mr. Griggs is eagerly sought after as a lecturer by the scholarly audiences of our large cities. For his lectures people often stand in line for hours to secure tickets. Hence we are doubly blessed in having him come to our small city, and in the privilege of hearing him as it were, in the social circle.

The Woman's Club is indeed to be congratulated upon their good fortune in securing him, and a representative audience of Frankfort's cultured people should greet him, and welcome him in our midst.

WORKED LIKE A CHARM.

Mr. D. N. Walker, editor of that spicy journal, the Enterprise, Louisville, Va., says: "I ran a nail in my foot last week, and at once applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve. KENTUCKY-JAMESTOWN NOTES.

The last shipment of logs for use in the construction of the Fort of Boonesboro, Kentucky's building at the Jamestown Exposition, has been made and it is expected that the building will be completed in time for the opening of the Exposition on April 26. Some delay was experienced in the delivery of the first logs shipped, owing to the congestion of traffic in the freight yards near the Exposition grounds. Reports from Norfolk indicate that the situation has been relieved to a great extent and it is believed that all building material should be on the scene in ample time for the work to be finished before the opening day of the Exposition. Nine cars of logs, clap-boards and poles for the Fort have been sent from Kentucky.

One carload of exhibits representative of Kentucky's mineral wealth has already been sent to the Exposition. This display will be made in the Mines and Metallurgy Building, one entire end of the building having been assigned to Kentucky. A car containing exhibits from the forests and farms of the Blue Grass State has also been started for the Exposition. Kentucky will have a space aggregating 2,500 square feet in the States Exhibit Building.

The Kentucky-Jamestown Exposition Commission, of which J. B. Atkinson, of Earlington, is president, is continuing its canvass for funds whereby the building and State Exhibits at the Exposition may be properly maintained. The Fiscal Court of Jefferson county, last week appropriated $5,000 to the sum already raised in Louisville by popular subscription. A number of Fiscal Courts have made appropriations and the subject will be considered by other county courts this week and next.

N. Veloz Gottiola, representing the Jamestown Exposition as a special Commissioner to Kentucky has returned to Norfolk after visiting manufacturers in Louisville and other cities for the purpose of interesting them in the Exposition. He succeeded in securing a number of exhibits and the manufacturers of the State will be prominently represented, along with the agricultural, forestry and mineral interests.

Announcement is made at the headquarters of the Kentucky Commission that a total of $750 has been subscribed to the Building fund by the school children of the State. These subscriptions were made on "Jamestown and Boonesboro Day" which was observed in the schools on December 12 last. Names of pupils contributing to this fund will be appropriately displayed in the Kentucky Building.

FRANKFORT DRIVING PARK.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Mr. T. G. Dalley, manager of the Frankfort Driving Park, offering the service of that fine young horse, owned by the park, to the farmers and breeders of this section. This horse is a son of the great Onward, and has inherited the most desirable strains of blood which that noted sire showed, and his produce are sure winners.

In addition Mr. Dalley, we may say, is training all stock offered, such as roadsters, trotters and high steppers, and the fine track at the Park is now open for work. He assures the best of care to stock committed to his hands.

STRONG MAN GONE.

Hon. Jasper W. Muir, of Bardonia, died at his home, on Wednesday last, aged 84 years, of paralysis.

Mr. Muir was one of Nelson county's most influential and able men. He was a lawyer and a banker and had accumulated a comfortable fortune.

Mr. Muir was a strong friend of Frankfort, when serving in the Constitutional Convention.

FIRE ON WEST SIDE.

At 12:50, on Wednesday night, an alarm from box 37 called the department to a cottage belonging to Judge J. N. Crutcher, on Kentucky Avenue, West Side.

When the department arrived they found the building, which was a story and a half frame, a mass of flames. The fire had gained such headway that it was practically destroyed.

The building was occupied by a family by the name of Kays, who lost pretty much every thing they had.

The department subdued the flames very quickly, after their arrival, and prevented their spread to adjoining buildings.

The loss amounted to about $300.

THE LIVER QUARANTINE

"TAKING HIS MEALS OUT."

Hurried eating has ruined many a man's stomach. The digestion-destroying process is gradual, often unnoticed at first. But it is only a short time until the liver balks, the digestive organs give way, and almost countless ills assail the man who endeavors to economize time at the expense of his health.

A torpid liver causes a quarantine of the entire system. It locks in the diseased germs and body poisons and allows them full play, inviting some serious illness. (In families where August Flower is used, a sluggish liver and constipation are unknown, so are all stomach ailments, as well as indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, headaches and kidney and bladder affections. No well-regulated family should be without this standard remedy.)

Two sizes, 50c and 75c. All druggists.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. We think of dyspepsia, indigestion, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific sickness—nothing else. It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop the creation of that now very popular Stomach remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success a favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. With that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad and shallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.
